CAUSE

On July 14, 2006, the Court signed an order modifying the defendant's conditions of supervision. He was ordered to reside at a residential reentry center (RRC) for up to 180 days. The condition stated that he was entitled to the benefits of the prerelease component, and that he would remain at the facility until discharged by the Court. This modification was the result of the defendant violating the conditions of his supervised release by consuming alcohol on December 31, 2005.

As the Court may recall, Mr. Gunion was arrested for second degree assault on December 31, 2005. He was subsequently found not guilty as the result of a jury trial in Spokane County Superior Court. He did stipulate to the fact that he was under the influence of alcohol on the night of his arrest. He was incarcerated at the Spokane County Jail continuously from December 31, 2005, until he was moved to Bannum Place of Spokane (RRC) on July 19, 2006.

While at the RRC, Mr. Gunion has been steadily employed and complied with the rules and regulations of the facility. The staff at Bannum advised this officer they have had no problems from the defendant. Mr. Gunion's family is currently going through a difficult time, as he has two brothers residing locally that are both terminally ill. This officer has been in communication with Mr. Gunion's mother during his stay at the RRC, and has authorized passes for him to visit his ailing brothers.

Due to the defendant's positive adjustment to the program rules at Bannum, gainful employment, and the health related issues facing his family, it is respectfully requested the Court modify the conditions of his supervision. This officer is asking that the defendant be released to electronic home monitoring for a period of 90 days, in lieu of his placement at the RRC.

Respectfully submitted,

by
